Half-million dollar jewel thieves sought

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Police Monday were still seeking clues to the half million dollar jewelry heist at a rental car agency that left one man dead and the suspects able to elude authorities.

The 5:15 p.m. robbery/murder, which occurred at Dollar Rent-a-Car, 7788 Merriman Road, Thursday, Oct. 10, left Sabhash C. Jain, owner of Real Gen Corporation in Illinois, dead of a gunshot wound to the left side.

Jain, who was taken first to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, was transferred to Westland Medical Center and pronounced dead of internal injuries at 10:20 p.m.

Police said Jain, who was returning a rented car, was on his way back to Chicago, his hometown, when two men approached him and began struggling with him in an attempt to snatch his briefcase.

Police said the briefcase contained over a half million dollars worth of rubies, emeralds, pearls, sapphires and possibly diamonds.

Police said that one of the suspects had entered the rental office and asked directions to the Marriot Hotel at Metro airport. Both suspects then drove parked their car directly behind Jain's vehicle, which was parked in the return area.

At that point, police said, one of the suspects apparently grabbed Jain's suitcase and briefcase containing the jewels.

According to witness statements obtained by police, Jain was standing next to the suspects' car, a gold, 4-door older model vehicle, when the first suspect ran to the passenger side.

Jain then ran to the front of the car and began pounding on the hood and shouting, the statements read.

A struggle ensued with Jain apparently attempting to regain his briefcase when one of the suspects pulled a small blue steel revolver and shot Jain in the left side, according to police.

Attempting to hold on to the car's bumper, Jain shouted for help as the vehicle began pulling away.

Detective Dave Early said that Jain might have survived the incident had he not tried to struggle with the robbers.

Both suspects then escaped and fled southbound on Merriman Road.

While awaiting the arrival of an ambulance, Jain, according to police reports, told Officer Dennis Burgor that a "black man shot (me)" and that he had never seen the suspect before.

He further told police that he was coming from "Greenfield" but was unable to continue.

Detectives investigating the incident have tentatively concluded that Jain may have been followed by the two suspects while either leaving Chicago or any of the numerous stops to sell his jewelry in the Detroit area.

He was considered to have been a gem dealer who dealt with "high-quality" stones, police said.

He often visited the Detroit area and regularly rented, every other week, a car from Rent-a-Car, the manager told police, and returned it at approximately the same time in the evenings.

Jain, who operated a family jewelry business under a different name, made monthly visits to the Detroit area, bringing with him his briefcase filled with gems.

At the time of the shooting, Jain had five checks, apparently received from the sale of gems at a location in Plymouth where he was a regular supplier of high-quality stones.

Investigators will trace the Jain's path from various businesses to determine if he was followed.

An India native, Jain's body was cremated according to his religious beliefs. He leaves behind a wife and 7-year-old daughter.

One suspect, a black male, 6' in height, was wearing a black or dark blue coat. A second suspect, a white male, 5'11" in height, 23-26 years-of-age, with sandy brown hair, was wearing a plaid shirt.

Police are asking for anyone with information about the incident to contact the detective bureau at 941-8400.

Sperry death deals blow to family, friends

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

"I hope that when you write about Michael you'll tell everybody that even though he had been drinking, he was a good teen-ager. Teen-agers deserve to make mistakes, Michael made one and now he's dead."

—Mrs. Shirley Webb

Michael Sperry was a typical teen-ager, filled with high hopes of finishing school and what he wanted when he grew older.

Sadly, for Michael's family and friends, he'll never grow old enough to experience the thrill of graduating nor the sometimes painful truth that life doesn't always grant one's wishes.

In this case, maybe for those

"Our kids today think they have to have a bottle of beer or something when they go out. Michael may have been drinking but at least he was walking home and not driving."

— Shirley Webb

who gathered around his hospital bed and prayed for his recovery, a little of Michael's dreams were transferred into the form of hope for another of life's victims.

Michael's organs, at the family's request and based upon what he had talked about prior to his death, were donated for transplant. At press-time, there had already been several transplants, including kidneys, made for those needing vital organs.

"He'd always said that if something happened to him that's what he would like done," Walter Sperry, Michael's uncle, said.

Michael's death came hard for those who knew him since he was a "toddler in diapers".

The senseless tragedy has left many longing for some shred of reason, some rational explanation why a 17-year-old's life should be snuffed out.

"He was a good kid," Shirley Webb said during a telephone conversation that was obviously painful for her.

"He and my son (Bob) have been lifelong buddies—it's just so senseless."

Her son, Bob, was present when rescue workers arrived to administer aid after Michael was struck by a driver on Middlebelt Road Oct. 6.

Both had been drinking, according to police, as had been the driver, Robert Kubicki, when Michael walked out into the middle of the road.

Why Michael was wandering in the middle of the road remains to be seen and police are trying to sort out the situation leading to the accident.

Witnesses told police that Kubicki had left and returned to the scene once police arrived.

According to police reports, he told the officers at the scene that he did not have a license and "did not mean to hit his friend Michael."

Sperry, whom according to police, had left the home of a friend's, had been drinking and was attempting to walk home.

Police said an argument between Robert Webb, a friend of Sperry's and this year's Romulus Homecoming King, and Kubicki, has led to rumors that Sperry was the unintentional victim and that it was Webb at whom Kubicki was allegedly aiming.

Det. Dave Early said Tuesday that those allegations are unfounded and that Sperry was walking alone at the time of the incident.

"If he wanted to (hit) Webb, why didn't he try when they were standing out front of the house?" Early asked.

It was Kubicki, Early said, who asked Sperry's friends to drive him home. They refused and Kubicki drove off looking for him.

Sperry's funeral was held Saturday, Oct. 12 at the Balm Crane Funeral Home in Romulus. More than 200 people were in attendance, many of them high school friends.

The death of Benjamin Davidson, of Orchard Street, a junior at Romulus High School, is the second death of a student at the school in less than two weeks.

Davidson was found slumped over the wheel of an inoperable dune buggy in the family garage by his mother, according to police reports.

Police reported no sign of in-

Rumor after rumor has circulated regarding the incident but police are convinced that Kubicki was attempting to find Michael and offer him a ride home.

After the accident, Kubicki, according to police records, told officers that "I didn't mean to hit my friend Michael."

Michael was an average student, his grades had been down this past year but, according to his uncle, Walter Sperry, they were improving and he was preparing to join the school's wrestling team.

According to Romulus High School Assistant Principal Tom Baldwin, Michael was "very popular" and a "likeable" kid involved in a lot of part-time jobs and extracurricular activities, including the landscaping of the high school grounds in coordination with Robert Cole, a science teacher.

His death has been traumatic for students and classmates, Baldwin said, as demonstrated by the sullen looks and frequently-heard remarks of remorse over his death.

One student recently died of undisclosed causes just four days after Michael's death and many are suggesting that it is related.

Michael had talked about joining the service after high school to take up welding—he had always tinkered with cars and, in fact, auto and welding shop were his favorite subjects in school.

But so much for future plans because Michael's immediate goal, according to Shirley Webb, was to be the next homecoming king, an idea fashioned after his best friend Bob Webb's recent capture of that title during this year's homecoming festivities.

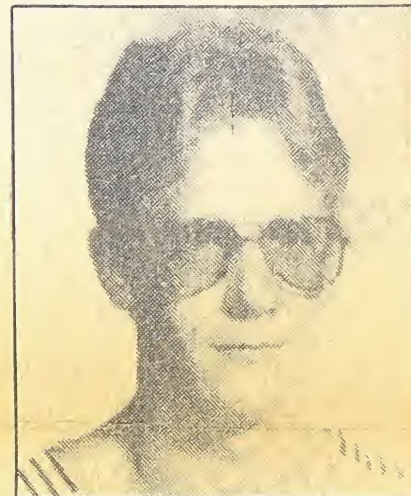

It is perhaps this picture that is so vividly etched in the minds of family and friends that makes it so difficult to let go of the once-energetic boy.

For Walter Sperry, it's a matter of putting back their lives while still reconciling the enormous sense of Michael's presence even in his absence.

"This has been hard for all of us—we're still caught up in waiting to see what Romulus is going to do about the accident," Sperry said.

Romulus residents, friends and classmates of Michael's, demonstrated their reaction to his death by turning out in large numbers for his funeral Saturday, Oct. 12.

"I never saw so many people and kids turn out for a funeral," Sperry added. "The kids were so well behaved and helpful."

Michael Sperry

A booth, designed to collect money to be given to Michael's widowed mother, garnered a "large" amount of money and support, according to Baldwin.

His death, at least for Shirley Webb, has caused her to re-examine today's youth's motives for accepting alcoholic drinks.

"Our kids today think they have to have a bottle of beer or something when they go out," she said.

"Michael may have been drinking but at least he was walking home and not driving."

Perhaps that last walk just before his death best testifies to the thoughtful youth Michael really was.

Or maybe, as further testimony to his considerate nature, was when, four weeks ago, he declined to go camping with his best friend's family because he didn't want to leave his mother home alone.

Friends and relatives would probably suggest that those whom Michael has left might never be alone again thanks to the memories of a once-shining son.

Homicide charge filed in death of 17 year-old

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

A warrant was issued Tuesday for a 24-year old Romulus man in connection with the death of a high school teen-ager, struck by the man's vehicle while walking on Middlebelt Road Oct. 6.

Robert J. Kubicki, of 29221 Goddard Road in Romulus, was charged with negligent homicide, a misdemeanor punishable by 2 years in prison.

Sperry was pronounced dead at the U of M Ann Arbor Hospital of injuries sustained in the accident. His organs, according to family members, were donated to the hospital for transplant.

Kubicki, whose name was withheld by police until a warrant could be obtained, was given a blood-alcohol test shortly after the 8:07 p.m. incident which indicated that he was apparently intoxicated when allegedly striking Sperry.

Kubicki allegedly struck Sperry with a 1977 Ford pickup as Sperry was apparently walking in the middle of the road, according to police. The vehicle is registered to a Milford resident.

Rescue workers and police arrived at the scene and found Sperry lying in the right lane of northbound Middlebelt.

Police await lab test results to name student's cause of death

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Police are awaiting the results of a toxicology analysis that will help determine the cause of death of a 16-year-old high school student Oct. 10 while friends and family gathered to pay tribute during funeral ceremonies Tuesday.

The death of Benjamin Davidson, of Orchard Street, a junior at Romulus High School, is the second death of a student at the school in less than two weeks.

Davidson was found slumped over the wheel of an inoperable dune buggy in the family garage by his mother, according to police reports.

Police reported no sign of injury or carbon monoxide poisoning and a Wayne County Medical Examiner's autopsy revealed no immediate cause of death.

A toxicology report will determine if any foreign substances were present in Davidson's body.

Davidson, a junior at Romulus High School, had enough credits to graduate with the class of 1986. He was considered very outgoing and interested in "getting on with life", according to friends.

The death, Oct. 6, of schoolmate Michael Sperry, 17, was said to have had an unnerving effect on Davidson and friends have suggested that his death is related.

Det. Dave Early, in charge of the investigation, said Tuesday that if Davidson was "despondent over Sperry's death, it may well be but at this point, the death is being ruled as accidental."

An energetic youth, Davidson had been interested in football and the R.O.T.C. at high school.

He also had a second blue belt in Tae Kwan Doe, an achievement bestowed upon those advancing to the higher 'black belt' position in karate.

Davidson worked full-time at Meijer Thrifty Acres in Taylor. Upon graduation, he hoped to become a forest ranger and inventor.

More than 200 friends and family gathered at R.G. Harris Funerame in Garden City, the second large gathering in less than a week for a high school student.

He will be buried on the family plot in Chester Hills, Ohio.

City, Historical Society team up to 'save' school

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

The city and the historical society will keep Romulus' first school building intact now that the council has approved plans to relocate the structure on to city-owned property. The move by the council Oct. 7 means that the old school house will be saved from demolition by the owner and will be preserved as a historical site in Romulus. J.D. Westerman, Inc. was awarded the bid to move the building from its current location at 36756 Goddard Road to Goddard and Hunt Street at a cost of $10,000.

The company's original bid was $12,440 but was revised to accommodate the city's allotment for the project.

The move will take place "weather permitting, this Fall" according to Pearl Varner, president of the Historical Society.

The acquisition and relocation of the old school building brought about a request by council members to form a historical commission to oversee and finance its renovation. Varner said that the historical society will "work from the outside in" to preserve and restore the original features of the building.

Story by Richard D. Glynn

FRIEDBERG, West Germany — The life of a soldier, regardless of national origin, has rarely, if ever, been an easy one, and for Army Spec. 4 Robert P. Sheldon, an infantryman, duty with the 3rd Armored Division typifies the soldier's lot.

Duty in the 3rd Armored 'Spearhead' Division centers around one aim—training for war—an eventuality most Spearhead soldiers hope never comes. However, along with the demanding and often grueling regimen of training, there is a pay off many of these division troops enjoy, the chance to see Europe first-hand by living there.

It's an opportunity that Sheldon, 20, son of Robert J. and Millie Sheldon of Shook Road, Romulus, takes full advantage of when his work schedule permits.

"Being stationed in Europe has been a great experience for me as far as traveling," said Sheldon, a member of the division's 1st Battalion, 36th Infantry. "I've been to London, Belgium, Austria, France and Spain. All were beautiful and interesting places.

"In Germany, it's nice to get on the autobahn (freeway) and drive over 100 mph to go places and never worry about the police, since there's no speed limit on the autobahns. And the beer here speaks for itself. It's very strong, but tastes great.

"I like our town of Friedberg, where I'm stationed. It's a nice, small town with many pubs and shops. The community accepts the military and serves the soldiers well. I would recommend a European tour of duty for anyone coming into the service."

Along with enjoying the advantages of living in Europe, there is still plenty of "soldiering" to be done. The Spearhead Division could well epitomize the front-line unit in West Germany. First formed in 1941, the division's troops earned a reputation as tenacious and rugged fighters during the Normandy invasion and subsequently was the first division to have soldiers slash through Hitler's Siegfried Line and enter Germany. Today, it retains its razor's edge as part of NATO forces in Europe and is known as the "Point of NATO Shield." As an infantryman, Sheldon is the driver of an M-113 personnel carrier. He recently earned the Expert Infantry Badge, a much coveted award among peacetime soldiers. "In my opinion, the EIB symbolizes perfection in my military specialty," Sheldon said. "It requires a lot of training and study time. I'm proud to wear it. "Being an infantryman in this unit is a difficult job, but it has its rewards. My battalion is the only infantry unit in the brigade, so sometimes our work load is heavy. But it is a very rewarding when a battalion of tanks relies on us to clear the way for them to position their tanks. Our mission in Europe is very important."

Third Armored Division artillerymen run through their crew drill on a M-109 155mm howitzer during a training session. Training is a constant companion of the soldiers of the Spearhead Division in West Germany.

Deputy killed in collision

The Wayne Police Department is continuing its investigation of a two-car accident Saturday evening that claimed the life of an off-duty Wayne County Sheriff's deputy.

Killed in the accident was John McNeer, 32, of Wayne.

According to Lt. John Colligan, McNeer was travelling eastbound on Van Born Road and was a quarter mile west of the Merriman Road intersection when he apparently lost control of the car and crossed the center line sideways into the westbound lanes.

McNeer's car was struck on the passenger side by a car driven by Osear Griffith, 57, of Toledo, Ohio, and pushed into the north curb of the thoroughfare.

Griffith and his passenger, Raymond Florence, also of Toledo, were injured in the accident and were transported to the Westland Medical Center. Both were admitted for treatment. Griffith was released on Sunday, while Florence remains hospitalized in fair condition.

McNeer was also transported to the medical center, where he was pronounced dead a short time later.

Colligan said investigators are uncertain as to why McNeer veered into the west-bound lanes. The roadway was wet at the time of the accident—about 8 p.m.—although it was not raining. Police officers will attempt to reconstruct the accident in an attempt to determine why McNeer lost control of his car.

Hospital authority purchases Trenton nursing home

Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) has purchased Balmoral Skilled Nursing Center, located on Fort Street in Trenton, next door to PCHA's Seaway Hospital. The 209-bed nursing home will continue to operate as a skilled care facility for patients whose illness does not warrant hospitalization, but with the need for a skilled level of care. The purchase price of approximately $6 million includes retention of the facility's name as well as inventory, equipment and furnishings.

Final completion of the sale is contingent upon obtaining the necessary licenses to operate the facility, a process that may take two to three months.

PCHA administration has been actively involved in seeking skilled nursing home beds at the direction of the PCHA board. After studying the needs of the Authority in terms of placing patients in skilled care facilities, the board determined more than a year ago that the authority needed to purchase, construct or lease long-term care beds.

PCHA owns and operates five hospitals in southeastern Michigan: Annapolis in Wayne, Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, Heritage in Taylor, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park and Seaway in Trenton, and owns an ambulatory center in Brownstown Township.

STATE LOSES 14-YEAR-OLD WARD OF THE COURT. GOVERNOR CARES!!

Dear Letter Writer:

Please help me write a letter to someone who can find my son.

Sincerely, CJ

Dear Governor:

On Oct. 5, 1970, I gave birth to my son. For the next 11 years, I raised and nurtured him. At age 11, he began exhibiting behaviors that were anti-social and self-destructive as well as illegal.

I am desperate, frustrated, and seemingly, without any other resources. I am a mother, and I love my son. I am terrified regarding his physical safety and emotional well-being.

As I write this letter, he is "somewhere" on the streets of "some place." He is 14 years old, a high school dropout, has admitted to 15 breaking and entering charges, has committed larceny and, most frightening, is chemically dependent on both drugs and alcohol. In an attempt to provide him and myself with psychological and emotional support systems, we have been involved in all available resource groups.

All my love, caring, concern, money, support, prayers and training have somehow been erased by whatever unknown entity is driving Scott in the ruinous direction he is clearly headed. He is suicidal, non-conforming and, essentially, a threat to himself and others around him. I have never felt such panic in my entire life!!

On March 19, my son became a Ward of the Court and was remanded to the custody of the State. He was placed in four different facilities and on June 12, July 15, July 25 and July 28, 1985, he "ran" from these four locations. I have not seen my son since June 27, 1985.

He was made a Ward of the Court as I was unable to control his behavior in the home. At the time of the court action, I felt relieved and certain that, at long last, I would be given the support that I needed to rehabilitate my son. However, since becoming a Ward of the Court (4 1/2 months), he has successfully "run" from three facilities, four times. Where is the control? Where is my son? Please provide me with some kind of direction. I am beside myself with grief. I NEED HELP!! My 14-year-old son is missing. I pray to God he is alive.

Sincerely, CJ

RESOLUTION: This letter was mailed Aug. 1, 1985. CJ's son was picked up on or about Aug. 4. On Aug. 22, CJ received the following letter from the Governor.

Dear CJ:

"I read with considerable concern, your recent letter regarding the problems faced by you and your son. All too often youths have fallen victim to drugs, alcohol and juvenile crime. The Department of Social Services' staff which has the responsibility for working parents and youths to help them overcome such problems, also shares that concern.

"In discussing your case, it is evident that department staff shares with you the sense of frustration and disappointment when treatment plans and placements have failed. They are not however, abandoning their efforts. I was pleased to learn that at this time, he has been apprehended and is safely in the custody of the department in a northern county.

"It is my understanding that he will remain in custody there until a hearing is held before the Youth Parole and Review Board on charges stemming from his activities while AWOL. It is the staff's recommendation to the board that he be placed in a boys' training school.

"The problems manifested by your son are extremely difficult to treat. The department staff is committed to doing everything within its ability to help him recognize his problems and cope with them effectively. Your actions make it clear that you too, are committed to doing all that is possible.

Sincerely, James J. Blanchard cruel, but it is certainly more humane than having the dog poisoned!

Our next step is to prevent backyard poisonings. Without the dog being present, strategically place dog food or leftovers around the yard and then, with leash and chain, walk the dog around the yard. If he drops his head for the food, jerk firmly and say NO, then rush the dog back in the house, sit the dog and give the command for eating and allow him to eat. You cannot praise your dog enough for performing correctly here! This step has to be repeated so that he will back away from dropped food. You will have to refresh him on this procedure from time to time.

Select a friend who is willing to stand on the other side of the fence trying to bait your dog to accept food. The correction procedure is the same as with dropped food. Remember to reward the dog when he accepts food from you or his family.

Both methods will work fine with the leash, but you will find that when you give the dog freedom, he will sneak the food from the ground. Don't worry because, we emphasize the word "sneak." Your dog will look back at you as if he's done something. This should tell you that your first step has worked successfully.

To eliminate the problem when the dog is off-leash, get yourself beer cans, coke cans, etc. Place rocks, marbles, pennies, etc., in the can and seal the top with electrical tape. When you shake the can it should make a piercing noise. (Have several cans assembled.) When your dog goes to the baited area, toss the can and hit the dog in the rear end. yelling NO in a horrified tone, then instantly changing your tone for a command of COME and PRAISE him in an excited tone. When you have retrieved the dog, quickly take him inside and repeat the sit, stay and controlled command exercise.

This process of poison-proofing, may seem extreme. But I must emphasize that this method will not destroy any love or affection your dog has for you, but instead, will develop a strong rapport between you and your dog and cement that trust required to protect him from harm.

Those of you who board your dog can rest assured he will be stimulated enough in the kennel to eat from his own dish when hungry.

Grampa's helper

I have come to appreciate through the years the influence grandparents have on the young. Like all our role models, such examples of behavior can be both good and bad. In either case the impact they have on moulding our psyche is significant.

My paternal grandfather was a man I knew, loved and admired. Oh, there were plenty of moments when I hated his habits and tendencies. Most everyone, including my father, called him "Pops".

After my grandmother died Pops came to live with us and through the years we spent a considerable amount of time together. Building speed boats was his hobby, and I, on occasion, was his little helper.

During my alleged apprenticeship, I learned a great deal about tools, their use and abuse, and a multitude of builders' tricks of the trade. As an example, I learned how to avoid big blisters by inserting screws with a ratchet screwdriver using screws that had been "soaped". Using this technique you only get little blisters.

I also learned the first rule of apprenticeship, which is if anything is missing or out of place, particularly one of grampa's tools, it is your fault. I also found out that invariably when you laugh at one of his dry humorous comments, you learn to your chagrin, that he was not joking. Conversely, when I found myself clinging to his every word of wisdom, I often would discover that he was pulling my leg.

Pops had two Evinrude outboard motors which were incredibly powerful for their day. He used these monsters to propel rather small boats over the waves at speeds that at that time terrified passengers and spectators alike, but he loved it.

One small hydroplane craft was his obvious favorite, until one day he had the misfortune of catching the wrong end of another boater's wake. Pops and his startled passenger found themselves catapulting through the air sans boat as the craft nosed under and flipped.

Unfortunately, a heavy object we later decided must have been the gas can followed him in his flight. He was rescued and brought to shore, blood pouring from a gaping head wound. "Where's my pipe," he grumbled to me as they helped him walk faltering past me. Fifty stitches later, he was already plotting how to make this overpowered but unstable little boat run faster with better weight distribution.

It didn't take long. "Eureka, what if I could get both of my outboard Evinrude motors harnessed together in tandem, and inside the boat?" Well friends, as crazy as that sounds, that is precisely what he did. Using an elaborate belt and pulley system, and by laying the motors down, removing the struts, and utilizing a transmission and drive shaft, he engineered and constructed the most terrifying machine Sand Lake had ever had nightmares about.

After months of planning and work it was completed and with a crew of confident helpers, he rolled it off the trailer into the water . . . and it barely moved. They tried everything. It didn't work. Back on the trailer it finally went and there it was parked in the back yard behind the cottage.

Fuming, he sat in his rocker on the screened front porch, smoking his pipe. Foolishly he said, "Well that's it, I think I'll just tear it apart". Now for a boy of 10, this sounded like great fun, and so I said, "Would you like me to take it apart for you?" His reply was in the affirmative, and hot damn I was on my way. Within minutes I was hard at it, loosening bolts, dismantling his masterpiece, because after all . . . I was his helper.

He would walk out, and watch me for brief periods, and then return to his chair. For hours I worked to accomplish my task. Finally, as darkness fell, as my muscles ached, I ceased my endeavors for the night.

The next morning Pops had a visitor, who had not been present through the entire Titanic voyage the day before. After hearing the entire tale Pop's young friend asked, "You did check out the spark plugs, did you not?" A pale came over my grandfather's face. He turned and looked and me, and then slowly turned away.

After a moment of silence, he got up, went out, and picked up a wrench. Slowly he loosened each spark plug and examined it.

After all his brilliant planning, and toil, it had not worked because of something so obvious that he'd missed it. And then he, with the aid of his trusty young helper, had acted in haste to undo all his efforts . . . before he had taken the time to think it through.

I felt terrible, but what is more important I learned a lesson I'll never forget. "Just because someone says they want you to do something, doesn't mean they really do . . . just because they say they need something from you doesn't mean that you should do it . . . just because someone thinks they know what is best for them doesn't mean they do.

In many ways, I learned to listen carefully to not just what people were saying, but what they were trying to tell you . . . and to count to 10, being doubly sure before taking action. Such caution is inappropriate in small routine matters . . . it is imperative in the big ones. And that's another invaluable lesson I learned through Pops . . . to tell the difference between the big ones and the little ones. That lesson was brought home toward the end of his long life.

As his body began to fail him, his mind did not. He decided to learn spanish when he was 80 years old, and succeeded. As the years passed, I saw less and less of him as I pursued my own life.

I talked to him one July night in 1975 when I knew he was in trouble . . . I knew it because he had taught me to recognize the big ones. I didn't know until later exactly what was occurring but as it turned out he was having a heart attack. After an hour-long drive I finally set eyes on him as he sat in his favorite chair, obviously not well, but apparently alert.

With politeness and dignity he told me what he needed . . . to help him to the car. He

One picture's worth a thousand words

The small photo at the right side of the column was the object of much controversy and discussion in our newsroom last week.

It is a horrible, grotesque reproduction of the tragedy which occurred on I-94 last week when a dilapidated horse trailer collapsed on the freeway and killed or injured 43 horses.

It is also one of the finest pieces of photography our Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko has given us. Konietzko, who has won more awards for his work than space permits us to print, is certainly no amateur in this business - and his philosophies regarding pictures and the use of same have to be treated with respect for the 30 years he has spent in the newspaper business.

We didn't use the picture. We debated, we discussed, we agonized . . . and some of us admitted to nightmares . . . but we chose not to use the photo that would very possibly have netted Konietzko and this publication more awards.

This wasn't an easy judgement to make. We understand the school of journalism that would criticize us loud and long for our failure to accurately portray the horror of this situation. We do understand our obligation to provide a realistic and uncompromising look at the news events in our area. We fully understand the trust the public places in us . . . and yet, we did not use the photos.

There are others, even more graphic. Living horses, hung by one foot from a crane, lifted into the air and dropped into a dump truck atop other carcasses, and other horses in the throes of painful deaths.

We chose not to use these photographs, as we notice did other media. Perhaps if they had a photographer of the caliber of Konietzko, they, too, would have wrestled with this decision.

We censored the photos in an effort to protect the sensibilities of those who have not had our experience with pictures of murder victims, abused children, burned corpses and decapitated bodies at auto accidents.

This wasn't an accident involving humans, but we are well aware of the number of small children who turn the pages of our publications each week. We well understand the sensibilities of impressionable teens to the graphic depiction of such obscene carnage. They are, quite often, just as affected by photos of animals as humans.

The opinion on the use of these photos was far from unanimous. There were those who felt that we should have used them for the maximum effect . . . that a powerful demonstration of the inhumane and cruel handling and death of these animals was an important issue that we had no right to keep from the public. Those critics still abound and are still being heard.

We listen, as we listened before the decision was made.

We also listened to our own emotions and analyzed our own reactions carefully.

The photo as you see it on this page has been deliberately "muddled" somewhat to prevent all the graphic detail from being seen. We have also printed the picture in a very small size in an effort to reduce the impact it might have. Why? Because while we are still very firm in our decision not to have used it in a large, detailed manner, we feel obligated to demonstrate the seriousness of it's potential impact - and the horror of the situation as it existed to our readers.

Sometimes, words just are not enough.

Horse handling draws protest

To The Editor;

I'm writing this letter in regards to the accident that happened on Oct. 7 on I-94 and Metro Airport involving the semi-load of horses.

That accident was nobody's fault but the people who put the 40 horses in a trailer that's only supposed to hold 18 horses. Even though horses are not human beings that's murder.

Just to save some money they took the lives of a lot of horses. They said on the news that the horses were on their way to the slaughterhouse. A horse dosen't deserve to die just to be dog food.

I think slaughtering horses should be stopped and I know a lot of people feel the same way. I have horses of my own that I compete in shows and Rodeos with.

A lot of people think horses are just another dumb animal but they're not. They can feel pain just like we can.

If they started slaughtering human beings that would be stopped wouldn't it?

Russell's column gets praise

To The Editor;

The guest editorial "Another view of apartheid" was extremely well written. Ms. Russell seems to have her head and her heart in the right place.

I remember feeling Willett came off feeling much too smug in "Tu Tu, Falwell, and Alfie."

Ms. Russell whisked your smugness away in one brilliant editorial. My compliments to her.

New Japanese 'Super Pill'

Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

Best of all, ordering Amitol is simple, fast, and reliable! Simply call Dyna Labs Toll Free: (1-800-441-5454) and order with your credit card. If you don't have a credit card Dyna Labs will also accept C.O.D. orders right over the phone! All orders are shipped immediately by UPS, which means no delay and no orders lost in the mail!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Operators are standing by and will be glad to take your order. You can order 24 hrs. a day, 7 days a week! Please don't wait to call. You really do deserve to be thin!

IN MY OPINION; The Federal Reserve's decision to require banks to furnish additional information on foreign loans will be seen by the market as "probable cause for concern." This action, along with last week's increase in money supply (M-1), will put upward pressure on interest rates. Bonds and interest sensitive issues will be under some selling pressure. The Fed must be getting curious as to why the recent increase in money supply (M-1) has had so little effect in stimulating economic growth.

OPINION FOR OCTOBER 13, 1985

NOTE: The jobless rate rose to 7.1 percent in September while the economy showed dramatic improvement; Major retailers reported generally disappointing September sales which raised fresh concerns about the important Christmas selling season.

He directed me down back roads over which I would never have found my way, particularly on a dark night. I left him in the hands of the hospital attendants, and after a long wait, to be sure he was stable, headed home.

Contrary to the opinion of everyone involved, he survived the attack and lived to make new friends and acquaintances in a nursing home. As he always had, he changed them, made them laugh with his dry humor and made the nurses in particular love him.

The night he died, he joked with the nurses and told me not to come up to see him although he was failing. I waited for a call . . . the nurses said they'd phone if his condition worsened. An hour later, that call came, and he was gone.

I learned a lot from Fred Wesley "Pops" Willett. In his 94 years on this earth he taught many people many lessons. Pops was a friend, a teacher, a role-model . . . and my grandfather.

He was daring, impossible, clever, impossible, witty, impossible, brilliant, impossible, creative, impossible and generally, a lovable old poop.

Grandfathers, in the twilight of their years, can spend quality time with children that parents fighting to make a living and be providers cannot. I regret my father died when my son was too young to benefit from the wisdom that he had to offer.

I salute grandfathers. May they realize the role they play in shaping the young as our leaders of tomorrow. May they consider seriously the cost of failing in their charge and opportunity. Let them be helpers of our youth and perhaps youth will be there to help them when they need it most.

See you next week.

Glenn's 6th seals divisional crown

Rockets rally past Walled Lake Central

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Not since 1976 had the Rockets of Westland John Glenn tasted the fruits of an outright championship, but last Friday night at Walled Lake Central that drought came to an end with Glenn's 34-11 football victory over the Vikings.

The triumph enabled the Westlanders to achieve one of their goals for the 1985 campaign --- to capture the Lakes Division championship of the expanded and prestigious Western Lakes Activities Association.

"Over-all, we've may have played our best game of the season to this point," Gordon said. "It was a tremendous victory because it wrapped up the division title."

With the victory, Glenn raised its over-all record to 6-0, 4-0 in the WLAA. Walled Lake Central fell to 4-2 over-all, 2-2 in the conference.

Ask any coach in any sport and they probably tell you that championships are won on the strength of the defense. It would be no different in this one.

But for the first half, it was Walled Lake's defense that stood out. Glenn took the opening kick-off and marched down the field to the four-yard line. Tony Boles carried the ball three times for 45 yards, but the Viking's defense stiffened and kept the Rockets off the scoreboard.

That gave Walled Lake the psychological lift it needed. Using the running of Ted Lilley (Sr., 5-9, 160), the Vikings counter-attacked and reached the 19-yard line and looked like they would cash in when Todd Quattlander broke up a pass and killed the momentum. The Vikings then settled for a 36-yard field goal by Pat Pruitt (Sr., 5-8, 155) and a 3-0 lead.

For the Rockets, an unusual situation was at hand --they were behind for the first time all season. But these 39 young men and four managers had a mission to complete and apparently nothing was going to deter them.

Mixing their plays well, Glenn took the ball straight down the ball downfield. A 16-yard pass from quarterback Steve Irwin to Bill Grisamer netted one first down, then when the Vikings seemingly had the Rockets stopped, a roughing-the-kicker penalty netted another first down. Another 15-yard pass to Grisamer got them closer until finally, Irwin hit Grisamer with a 13-yard pass for the touchdown. Tony Svaluto hit the point-after and Glenn led, 7-3.

Four plays later, Glenn had the ball again on the 46-yard line. A 12-yard run by Boles netted a first down before Irwin found Chuck Hammontree in the corner of the end zone for the score. Svaluto's PAT made it 14-3 at the half.

Irwin, who completed seven of nine passes for 152 yards and three touchdowns, broke the former Glenn record for touch-

Unleashing their best offense in recent years, Inkster High's Vikings buried Ecorse 59-0 last Friday in a Suburban Athletic Conference contest. Running back Marvin Brewer(30) is shown going over the Red Raiders' goal line for one of the four TDs he scored. The Vikings will travel to neighboring Robichaud Friday to resume their annual rivalry. When these two natural rivals meet, you can toss out the records.

Coming off of a tough overtime 16-13 victory over North Farmington, Plymouth Salem will clash with undefeated Westland John Glenn Friday night in Westland.

"Glenn has a very talented team this year," said Salem's veteran coach Tom Moshimer. "Along with Boles who is one of the finest running backs around, they have an excellent quarterback in Irwin and an outstanding receiver in Hammontree.

"And when you consider that they are big and strong up front and the line does a great job opening up the holes, well you know you're in a battle all the way."

Salem will bring a 2-2 conference and a 2-4 over-all record to Glenn Friday night. The Rocks posted their second league win at the expense of North Farmington which came up with a touchdown in the third quarter to tie 13-all, but lost their third overtime decision when Brian Storm connected on a 23-yard field goal in the extra period to lift Salem to a 16-13 triumph.

"We played with intensity Friday night, something we didn't do the previous week," noted Moshimer. "That was the difference. North Farmington is a better team than its record would indicate. They have lost three games now in overtime."

The Rocks got on the scoreboard in the first quarter when Jerry Sumner leaped over the NF goal line, culminating a short drive. Sumner's TD was set up by Bill Juchartz who had picked off an errant NF aerial.

Salem had a 13-7 advantage at the midway point thanks to Paul Makara's 10-yard TD run. In the series that started with Makara's interception at the Rock 10 and a run back to the 48's, Makara also caught a 20-yard pass from Brian Tiller to move to the NF 28.

North Farmington received an exceptional performance from Scotty Seltzer who rushed for 155 yards in 25 carries, while Tiller and Makara stood out for the Rocks on offense and outside linebacker Joe Joubbi, Kurt Urban, middle linebacker, and Makara were the mainstays of the Salem defense.

Taylor spoils Spartan Homecoming

Despite an over-cast sky and intermittent rains, it wasn't Mother Nature who spoiled Cherry Hill's Homecoming last Saturday.

The blame rests on the shoulders of visiting Taylor Kennedy which shut out Coach Ken Mientkiewicz's Spartans 17-0 before a Homecoming crowd. The loss left the Spartans with a 1-4 Tri-River Conference record and a 2-4 over-all mark. "Obviously we are all disappointed," Mientkiewicz said, "but we knew that Kennedy had an ex-plished. Mental errors also helped defeat the Spartans. For example, Cherry Hill had only 10 players on

And while the visitors made good use of Cherry Hill gifts, the Spartan offense remained mired at midfield most of the afternoon.

Despite the setback Cherry Hill received solid efforts from defensive tackle Lou Manev while Scott Johnson, a linebacker, also gave 100 percent. The defensive secondary made up of Mike Thibault, Marcus Lowe, Mike Brown and Lou Davis helped keep the skies cleared of any Kennedy menace. The defense also held Kennedy's top rusher, Rick Reitmeyer, in check. He had one big play, a 20-yard gain.

Cherry Hill will attempt to rebound 1:30 p.m. on Saturday at the expense of Dearborn Heights Annapolis. Annapolis, however, has always caused the Spartans problems on the gridiron.

cellent team. They shut down our offense and put 17 points on the board. We were too erratic on offense to get anything accomplished. Mental errors also helped defeat the Spartans. For example, Cherry Hill had only 10 players on the field when Taylor Kenney managed to turn a punt return into a touchdown. A Spartan fumble set up the second score.

Tigers

Belleville Tiger soccer team hosted West Bloomfield in a Regional A playoff game and the local kickers learned the hard way why Bloomfield is considered one of the better teams in the state.

Paul Pollard scored the only goal in a losing effort. The next Tiger contest is scheduled for Tues., Oct. 22 at Farmington. Following that is a Thurs., Oct. 24 game at Allen Park.

CELEBRATING OUR 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Almost!

Wayne gives Trenton scare, 13-6

Unheralded Wayne Memorial apparently wasn't impressed by Trenton's untarnished record or its state-rating and forced the undefeated Wolverine 'A' Conference leader to sweat it out before surrendering 13-6.

"I really thought our kids were keyed up for this game," said Wayne coach Chuck Howton after the defeat, "and they went over there with the confidence that they could play with them."

And play they did. Holding their hosts scoreless the first half, it was Wayne which drew first blood. Early in the third period quarterback Doug Quartuccio teamed with Kelly Claxton on a 30-yard TD pass, lifting the visitors to a 6-0 lead.

Quartuccio's attempt for the point after was blocked.

However, Trenton came back with their all-state candidate, John Milligan who broke a 60-yarder for the equalizer just before the end of the third period. Trenton went ahead with the extra point.

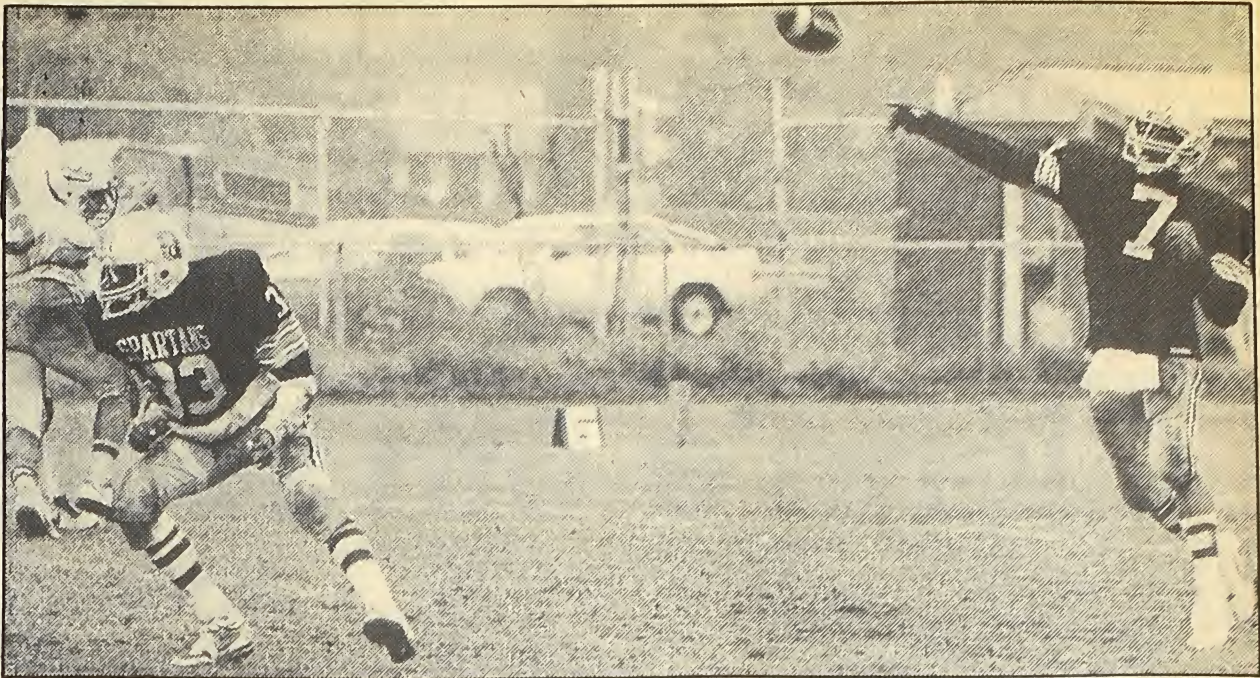

In the closing minutes of the final quarter Trenton struck again this time Milligan scored on a 4-yard dive play that polished off a 55-yard Trojan drive.

However, Claxton brought both sides to their feet when he ran the ensuing kick off for 60 yards and was nailed inside the Trenton 20 yard line with less than two minutes to go. But Trenton thwarted the upset attempt when Quartuccio's pass on a third down situation was intercepted.

Wayne received a superb offensive performance from Danny McGraw who rushed for 109 yards on 17 attempts while defensively Wayne had several outstanding performers, namely, Harold Nunley, a defensive tackle, Dave Florn, William Massey, Claxton and Eddie Jordan. Joining that list also were the Warner brothers-Doug and Steve along with Juan Hearn.

"We were prepared for this game and consequently didn't make the mistakes we had in the past," pointed out Howton who said the team would have to come up with a similar effort to stop Wyandotte this week.

In orbit

With Brian Wolf(33) offering protection, Cherry Hill quarterback Lou Davis unleashes one of a score of passes against Taylor Kennedy. Kennedy was ready for anything and everything that the Spartans threw at them Saturday and emerged with a 17-0 victory to remain atop of the Tri-River Conference standings.

Romulus turns back Truman for share of Metro-West title

Saying that he felt his team was well-prepared for Taylor Truman, Coach Norb Glover saw his Romulus Eagles post a crucial 14-6 victory over their league foes to clinch a share of the Metro-West Conference football championship.

"Taylor Truman has a fine team and they played tough," Glover continued, "but I felt we prepared well for this one. And the end results show it."

Although Romulus beat Truman, Truman, in turn, defeated Taylor Center which, in turn, beat Romulus. The three teams appear to have a third of a title in their respective hands.

However, Lowell Johnson, athletic director at Romulus, pointed out that "it just isn't clear how the championship will be divided. There is a unique way of determining the championship and I'm not sure how that is done. However, I am certain of one thing: we do have a share of it (title) whether it is half or a third we're going to have to wait and see."

Romulus scored touchdowns in the first and third quarter with John Morris breaking loose for a 47-yard TD in the first stanza and Ron Underwood climaxing a 60-yard march with a 15-yard score. Julian Crews scored both extra points.

Eagle quarterback Luther Shannon was on target with nine of his 16 aeriels which counted for 113 yards while Morris ended up with 55 yards.

Glover said that he couldn't single out a particular defensive player "but the entire defensive unit deserves credit for the exceptional job they did."

Romulus will return to the home turf Friday night to clash with a under-rated Garden City.

"Their record is very deceiving," Glover noted referring to his Friday night opponent. "They have lost some very close games."

Sweeping nine events including two relays, Wayne Memorial dunked Fordson 51-32 in a Wolverine 'A' Conference girls' swimming meet last week.

Coach Jim McPartlin put a foursome together of Rhonda Graham, Julie Garlough, Vicki King and Carrie Basmer who

Out of reach

Barely eluding the outstretched hands of an Ecorse defender, Inkster's Dylan Morrison(49) picks up some valuable yardage in last Friday's SAC confrontation. Morrison and the Vikings tuned up for this Friday's duel with arch-rival, Robichaud, with a 59-0 lopsided victory over the Red Raiders.

Harrison keeps Canton winless

If Plmouth Canton coach Rich Barr is wondering aloud these days "Where's the offense?" one can't blame him.

Offense, the lack of it that is, was missing when the Chiefs ran up and retreated from Farmington Harrison last week. Harrison chalked up a 16-3 victory over their conference rivals.

"We played a pretty decent game on defense," Barr said, "but we didn't get the offense. And when you don't put the points on the scoreboard you can't expect to win."

Canton is winless this season and the Chiefs may find a cure to what ails them Friday night when Northville comes to town.

"They are an up-and-down team," Coach Barr said, "but, obviously, with our 0-6 record we have our problems. And at this point they are all a threat for us."

Canton provided all the defense Harrison could handle in the first half as the Chiefs only gave up five points and walked off the field trailing 5-3 thanks to David Liuzzo's 38-yard field goal which came in the first quarter. But Harrison increased the margin by 11 in the third quarter and the Chiefs never got back into the action as their offense sputtered throughout the rest of the contest.

Steve Boyd, Canton's middle linebacker, along with defensive end Dan Olszewski, were the backbones of the Chiefs' defense, and guard Steve Bouher also was a standout.

Steve Genyk will be moving into the driver's seat of the Canton's offensive machine in hopes of revving up the sputtering engine. Two former QBs have been sidelined with injuries.

Huron bows to Islanders

It'll be out of the fire and into the frying pan for New Boston Huron's gridders.

After bowing to Grosse Ile's Islanders 35-7 last week, coach Tom LaBeau's Chiefs Friday night will host Monroe Jefferson, one of the perennial powerhouses in the conference and last year's Class B state playoff finalist.

"We've been playing pretty good football until last week," LaBeau said. "Believe me, we're going to have to put it back together for Jefferson. They have a very good football team."

Grosse Ile dominated the Chiefs who managed to avert the shutout when Mark Simpson grabbed a second period punt and returned it 85-yards for a touchdown. Jon Packett kicked the extra point.

"We were totally controlled by them," LaBeau said whose club's record dipped to 1-5 on the year.

Unbeaten Rockets stretch win streak to 6

downs in a career held by Bill Lee. Irwin now has 14 touch-down passes, surpassing the former record by two.
"Steve picked a great time to play his finest game at Glenn," Gordon noted. "The ball was right in target all night. He just really exploded."
But Walled Lake came out in the second half, took control of the ball, and held onto it for all but 96 seconds of the third period. With Lilley running the ball for 10 of 19 plays and 30 yards and the daring scrambling of quarterback Joe Gregart (Sr., 5-9, 160) for 21 yards, the Vikings reached paydirt and had their Homecoming crowd looking for an upset.
Gregart followed his touch-down with a 2-point conversion run and Central had closed the gap to 14-11.

"I think that Drive was frustrating because they didn't throw the ball or had any big plays," Gordon commented. "They just made enough yardage. I was not alarmed by the drive. It was just frustrating."
But that drive only served to quicken the Rockets' resolve to get it done. As someone once said: "When the Rockets go to war, watch out."
And to war they went. In five plays Glenn had a touchdown. Facing a third-and-10 situation, Irwin found Mike Ham-montree for a 23-yard pass that netted a first down. One play later, Boles took the hand-off from Irwin, scooted around left end and raced 31 yards into the end zone. Svaluto's point after made it a 21-11 ball game and Walled Lake's momentum was gone.

Following a Walled Lake punt, Glenn scored again, this time on an 11-yard pass to Rick Hassen. After the point-after Glenn had amassed a 28-11 edge. But the big play in that series was an over-the-shoulder catch by Ham-montree who was nailed five yards short of the goal line.
A few minutes later, Ham-montree intercepted a pass at the 45-yard line and returned it 42 yards. After Walled Lake's defensive line refused to yield a yard, Boles showed everyone that he can throw, too, as he fired a nine-yard pass to Has-sen in the end zone and Glenn had its final score in a 34-11 victory. And their first divisional championship was sealed to boot.

The Junior Varsity Rockets defeated Walled Lake Central,

29-0, as Ken Jones, Pat Pettit, Eric Thornton, and Derek Strehl scored touchdowns, the latter on a 30-yard interception return, to raise their record to a perfect 6-0.

With running back Ernie Paponetti maneuvering into position, Belleville quarterback Jim Utt (12) plows toward the Wyandotte line with the option on his mind.

Belleville comes up loser with Wyandotte

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With a Homecoming Queen and crowd on hand to cheer them on, Belleville failed for the sixth time this season to find its way into the winning column.
This time it was Wyandotte which spoiled the evening of entertainment for the Tigers who scored two second half touchdowns but fell short, 21-14, Friday night.
And with Lincoln Park next on the Belleville schedule, that Tiger losing streak could be extended. The Parkers won five in a row until running up against Fordson last week.
"They (Lincoln Park) have had a great season," said Belleville coach Pete O'Neill, "and they also will be coming off of their first defeat. We have to be ready mentally and physically or they will blow us right off of the field."
Wyandotte built up a 14-0 halftime lead before Belleville struck back with Gregg Hardmon's 94-yard punt return in the third quarter that put the Tigers on the scoreboard. Hardmon was sprung loose thanks to a key block by Scott Small and help by Brian Byrd and Delbert Dailey.
Dennis Montie booted both Tiger extra points.
After the Bruins had turned it into a 21-7 game, Belleville cashed in on a midfield drive with Dan Bradford's 4-yard TD run. Montie did most of the legwork that netted the Tigers the yardage.
Quarterback Jim Utt came up with a couple of drive-saving passes to Byrd and he finished the evening with 11 of 16 (with one interception) for 101 yards. Montie had 18 rushes for 47 yards and Dan Fisher, who whose blocking on the offensive line opened the holes for the Tiger ballcarriers earned "Tiger of the Week" honors. Darrell Elder also was a standout as a defensive end.

Strehl returns for soph season

Dan Strehl

Strehl, a sophomore linebacker, hopes to help improve the 5-4 record of last year. Under head coach Pete Schmidt, who is entering his third year at Albion, the Britons hold a positive outlook for the 1985 season.

'Saga'— story of success

By JENNIFER SAWICKI
ANP Staff Writer

Philadelphia one night. New York the next. Two days off in two months (because a hurricane happened by). Such is the saga of life in a rock 'n' roll band.

But this is a special saga. It's the band Saga, which will be appearing in Detroit at the State Theater, Saturday Oct. 18, courtesy of WILLZ and Celar Door Productions.

The Toronto-based band which formed in 1977 is on tour in the United States and Europe promoting the release of its latest album "Behaviour," co-produced by Saga and Peter Walsh and available from Portrait Records.

Saga's members include Jim Chrichton, bass guitar, keyboards and father-to-be, brother Ian Chrichton on guitar, Steve Nagus, drums, Michael Sadler, vocals and keyboards, and, joining the band in 1980, Jim "Daryl" Gilmour on keyboards.

With the release of "Behaviour," Saga has a brand new single "What Do I Know?" which is expected to enter the Top 40 with its alluring slower dance beat and rhythmic chorus. A second single release "Misbehaviour" is expected soon.

The band is currently finishing up a east coast tour, cut short thanks to hurricane Gloria's unexpected appearance, which will be highlighted by a stop at the Ritz Hotel in New York to produce a video segment with MTV to be televised Nov. 2.

Later this month, Saga will be touring with bands "Heart" and "Night Ranger" before heading to Germany for the filming of a TV concert with Robert Plant and Tears for Fears among others.

According to bandmember "Daryl" Gilmour, touring the United States is different from touring in Europe in that all U.S. cities look the same.

"You know, you pull into town and there's a Denny's on one side of the street and a McDonald's on the other."

But Gilmour said he likes Detroit, and is looking forward to returning. The band has appeared in Detroit before with Eddie Money.

If you happen to miss the Detroit concert, Saga will be playing in Grand Rapids on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Tickets for the Detroit concert are $10 and are available at all AAA branch offices, J.C. Penney stores and Ticket World Outlets.

Saga members: Jim Chrichton, Steve Nagus, Michael Sadler, Ian Chrichton and Jim "Daryl" Gilmour.

Less Than Zero!
By Bret Easton Ellis
Simon and Schuster
208 pages

If your idea of a good read is the latest romance novel that ya can't even tell if you're already read until page 100, you don't want to read this book.

Or this review. Beat it. Or, if your idea of a "good challenging read" is "TV Guide,...likewise.

But, if you know that the guy that started the whole concept of "Band Aid" and "USA For Africa" is Bob Geldof, lead singer of the great Irish rock band the Boomtown Rats, consider Hunter S. Thompson the greatest author in American history and prefer Whoopi Goldberg to Don Rickles, stick around.

"Less Than Zero" is a great, no, Great American Novel.

Even more astonishing is the fact that this is Ellis' debut. It's got enough grease and grime to hold the typical Jackie Collins smut kitten while at the same time enough grit and psychological drama to hold the intelligent reader as well.

Being hyped as this year's "Catcher In the Rye" is unfair, and Ellis shouldn't have to struggle with such comparisons that are needless and foolish. It's a very strong novel in it's own write, to coin no phase whatsoever.

Oh yes, the story. It's framed around a guy named Clay, who has all the usual troubles that traditionally trouble youth; too much money, too much sex and perversion and, of course...well, read the book and find out for yourself.

Told in a series of one or two-page vignettes, Ellis undercuts and slaps the traditional novel across its face; an analogy that will become clear to the reader.

And Emily Prager, a frequent guest on Late Night with David Letterman says...well, it's kind of unprintable in a family newspaper like this one, but it is favorable, and is funny enough to buy the book for in itself.

So there you go. Spend your money for the book jacket and Prager's words, and "but wait, there's more!" you'll get, absolutely free, one of the (if not THE) best novels of this year (and maybe the best since Tom Robbins "Jitterbug Perfume" and the great "Even Cowgirls Get The Blues") for nothing. Free. Nada. Get with it. Now! His aim is true.

"Less Than Zero" by Bret Easton Ellis is available at Waldenbooks, newly located in the Westland Mall, where the top-10 best sellers and other special books are always 25 percent off.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stumbo

Conrad--Stumbo exchange vows

Graceway Baptist Church of Ypsilanti provided the setting for the late summer nuptials of Lori Ann Conrad and Jim Stumbo.

The bride is the daughter of Ed and Irene Conrad of Romulus. The groom is the son of Dixie May of Kentucky.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Clarence Byrd, with 150 guests in attendance.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a taffeta gown with sheer overlay with cathedral train for the mid-afternoon ceremony. Embossed flowered lace with beads and pearls accented the bodice, long sleeves and skirt inserts of the gown.

A small picture hat, accented with pearls and beads, held her shoulder-length veil in place. Her bouquet was of peach bud roses, silk stephanotis and baby's breath.

The bride asked Cindy Zeestraten of Romulus, her sister, to serve as her honor attendant. She wore a peach-colored nylon taffeta gown for the ceremony.

The bridesmaids were Janice Zirandi of Flat Rock, sister of the bride, and Clarence Charkiewicz, sister of the bride.

The groom asked Jim Fugate of Ypsilanti, a friend, to perform the duties of best man. Serving as ushers were Kerry Stumbo of Indiana, brother of the bride, and Larry Slone of Ypsilanti, a friend.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests preceded a one-week honeymoon to Florida. The rehearsal dinner, given by the groom, was held at the Woodstone Inn.

The new Mrs. Wagner is employed as a beautician by Fantastic Sam's in Ypsilanti, while her husband is employed by the General Motors Corporation at its Willow Run Plant.

Laginess--Wagner wed

A private ceremony at Inkster's District Court united Marry Laginess of Romulus and Dennis Worsley of Garden City in marriage Sept. 6.

The bride is the daughter of Gil and Olive White of Romulus, while the groom is the son of Helene Worsley of Westland.

Serving as witnesses for the ceremony were the couple's mothers.

A small family luncheon was held following the ceremony to honor the newlyweds.

Try these endless ‘pastabilities’

The history of pasta is almost as tangled as a bowl of vermicelli. Many authorities credit Marco Polo with bringing the noodle from China to Italy. I can handle that, but it was my friend Chef Boyardee, who really discovered exactly what a good, thick rich sauce did for those gossamer ribbons.

In most culinary circles, it is more important to be aware of how you twirl the spaghetti around your fork, than where or whence it came. (By the way, true Italians laugh when they see us use a spoon for fork twirling) Practitioners of the noble art of pasta devouring claim that it's all in the wrist.

In this country, our version of pasta has been drowned in a sea of tomato sauce. Only recently have we begun to appreciate the dazzling choice of sauces that accompany pasta abroad.

One of the best ways to explore some of these lesser known sauces and adornments is to give what the Romans call "una spaghetтата," a BIG spaghetti bash. If you know several people whose palates are prepared for a lusty adventure, invite them for an evening featuring perfectly cooked pasta with a sample of sauces. Especially this time of year when someone you know is into running the Detroit Marathon, Run for Liberty or the Boston Marathon, what better food to enjoy than something high in carbohydrates.

A few of my fitness junkie friends have actually laid claim to eating a bowl of pasta for breakfast the day of the run for added "good carbo's" (whatever they might be).

A chef, whose home was in Florence Italy, tried once to describe to me the proper way to test spaghetti for doneness. It must be cooked "al dente" or to a "soft chewiness," but the ONLY way I can describe it is when you throw strands of pasta against the wall- and they stick! If they fall down, it wasn't cooked, if they stuck - a bellissimo!

Naturally, I thought that was his idea of a little joke. Can you imagine what his walls looked like?

One evening, after preparing a platter of profound perciatelli (small pierced pasta twice as thick as spaghetti, but hollow like macaroni) and downing a few liters of Chianti with friends, we tried it and it really did work! Of course, it was good three minutes of continuous trying that my dog (Jack the Wonderdog) truly enjoyed because he enjoyed the stuff that was still a little too "al dente."

A word of advice, though, don't cook the pasta until the very last moment, when all the sauces are ready and you're only a few minutes away from announcing dinner. Always use a large pot full of boiling water so that the pasta cooking has room to "move" throughout the pot. This eliviates sticking. Also, if making pasta from scratch, allow yourself plenty of space and lotsa red wine.

A word about the cheese to sprinkle with: Forget the green plastic canisters of that so called "cheese" that's been in the fridge since last May. Try some fresh grated parmesan. (Can be purchased already grated from deli's) or grate some yourself for an even better taste. Well aged parmesan has a faint golden color and has an elusive flavor of nuts. Romano is white, saltier and sharper, but some prefer it to Parmesan.

My favorite, Asiago, which originated in the provinces, is nuttier and more flavorful than Parmesan or Romano, but very hard to find. Italians never serve cheese with a seafood sauce, but you can load on the cheese if you like - I'll never tell.

Bon Appetite!

HOMEMADE PASTA
Easily serves 4

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 whole eggs
about 1 tablespoon water

With hands, sift flour and salt together. Add eggs, mixing well with your fingers after

CAVIAR SAUCE

1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup heavy cream (Guernsey's is best)
the juice of 1 lemon
6 tablespoons butter
Caviar, at room temperature

Combine first four ingredients in top of double boiler and warm over hot water, stirring occasionally. Toss hot pasta with the sauce and as much caviar as your budget will allow.

SAUCE BOLOGNESE

2 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 cup diced prosciutto
1 cerey rib, minced
3/4 pound ground beef

1/2 pound ground pork
1/2 cup Marsala or sherry
1/2 cup cheap dry white wine
3 chicken livers, cleaned and quartered
1/4 pound mushrooms, chopped
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup diced bacon
1 onion, minced
1 carrot, minced
1/4 pound ground veal
2 cups beef broth
2 tablespoons tomato paste
1/4 teaspoon rosemary

Heat olive oil in a large skillet. Brown bacon and prosciutto, sautee onion and celery and carrot in the same until tender. Add beef, veal and pork and cook, breaking up meat with fork until pink has disappeared. Mix together 3/4 cup beef broth and 1/4 cup Marsala or sherry. Add to skillet and cook until liquid has been absorbed. Stir in tomato paste. Mix together white wine with enough beef broth to cover ingredients. Add rosemary. While sauce is cooking, sautee mushrooms and chicken livers in butter. Add to sauce and cook. Mix cream with remaining 1/4 cup Marsala or sherry and stir into sauce.

THIS WEEKS LO CAL DIET RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Even though pasta isn't that high in fat, try substituting spaghetti squash for the pasta noodles. Cook the whole spaghetti squash in the microwave until it feels like a deflated football. Remove the inner seeds and using a fork remove the "noodles." Toss with melted margarine and enjoy! If you don't have a microwave, spaghetti squash can be boiled or baked to perfection!

Murphy--Wagner say 'I do'

Two hundred friends and relatives were in attendance at St. Mary's Church of Wayne for the mid-summer wedding of Kimberly Lynn Murphy and Mark Herbert Wagner.

The bride is the daughter of Bill and Shirley Murphy of Westland. The groom is the son of Herbert and Ann Wagner of Howell.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Fr. John O'Callaghan. Music for the ceremony included vocals by Mary Marcoux, friend of the bride, with Mike Jackson on the guitar. Special selections included "Follow Me," "You've Got a Friend," "You Light Up My Life," "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Missy Murphy, sister of the bride, served as lector during the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her parents, chose a gown with cathedral train of white organdy, featuring a lace illusion neckline with appliqued flowers, knife-pleated ruffle sleeves and a satin bow with cascading ribbons in the back.

A wide-brimmed picture hat held her antique lace veil, complimented with pleated ruffles, applied flowers and pearls, in place.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wagner

A bouquet of white roses, glorioxia and stephanotis completed her ensemble.

She asked Sharon Rychlinski of Warren, formerly of Wayne, to serve as her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Karen Fiedler of Inlay City, Cindy Parker of Wayne, sister of the bride, Sandy Spring of Westland, sister of the bride, Diane Wagner of Howell, sister of the groom, and Linda Wagner of Panama City, Florida, sister of the bride.

The honor attendant wore a floor-length gown in a pale rose color with lace illusion neckline, adorned with embroidered flowers, and elbow-length sleeves. The bridesmaids' gowns were similar, but in a daphne rose shade. Their bouquets were of silk pink and white daisies, pink sweetheart roses and glorioxia, with cascading rose ribbons.

The groom asked Kevin Girbach of Inkster to serve as his best man. The groomsmen were John Bauer of Lansing, Bill Murphy of Westland, brother of the bride, Tom Murphy of Oak Park, brother of the bride, Paul Wagner of Howell, brother of the groom and Brian Walt of Lansing.

Mrs. Murphy chose a floor-length gown of orchid embossed taffeta, with a bodice overlay of chiffon, while Mrs. Wagner wore a floor-length gown in chalk rose, featuring a waist-length overlay, gathered at the shoulder, with a beaded adornment.

Wedding guests were treated to a punch reception in the church garden, following the ceremony and prior to a dinner reception at VFW Post 3941 Hall in Livonia.

Special out-of-town guests included the bride's cousins from Wyoming and Kentucky and the groom's aunts, uncles and cousins from Chicago, Illinois.
